MARKET PRICE INFORMATION

THE INFORMATION GAP

Where can I find information on prices? This is one of the main questions asked by exporters.

Having good information about pricing in a given market is an essential element needed to develop a sound business proposal. In many cases, price information can be scarce, dispersed, incomplete and outdated.

Access to accurate and timely market price information is a major input for correct decision-making and planning as well as improving public policies through increased awareness, market realities and market transparency.
